At Ele's Place Ann Arbor we recognize the grief journey for children and teens is unique, and unaddressed childhood grief can have a negative impact on their health and well-being. We provide a safe place for grieving children and teens to share their stories and memories, explore their feelings, learn coping skills, and meet new friends who understand them. Children and teens build a “tool box” of skills and strategies to help them express their fears, anger, guilt and sadness while processing their grief. Most important, they feel heard and understood, and they realize they are not alone.

Thank YOU for YOUR support! We are SO grateful!
